THE PRESIDENT'S JEFFERSON DAY DINNER SPEECH—

President Truman, speaking at the traditional Jefferson Day dinner for Democratic party leaders, strongly emphasized the following points:

1. A strong foreign policy. Without mentioning Russia by name, the president significantly compared our present foreign policy to that of James Monroe, whose Monroe Doctrine was aimed, in part, at Russia. "We must aid those peoples whose freedoms are endangered by foreign pressures," he declared. He emphasized that ours would be a positive stand against aggression in any form.

2. Armed Forces. "The United States must maintain a military power commensurate with our responsibilities."

3. Sound Domestic Economy. Although he defended his budget estimate as being the minimum essential amount to carry on governmental operation without hurting necessary services. (Cutting the budget beyond this point, he indicated, would be "false" economy) he pledged "strengthened economy" in government and declared that the budget for this year would be balanced. The president, also, attacked proposed tax cuts, stating that we should reduce the national debt while we are prosperous.

Mr. Truman emphasized that many prices are "unnecessarily" high and "must be brought down if our entire economy is not to suffer."

The president did not mention his plans for 1948, but party leaders left no doubt that he will be nominated. Mr. Truman has been growing in the esteem of the people for several months and the Democratic landslide in the recent Chicago election is indicative of a possible Republican reverse on a national scale.

ATOMIC BOMB MAY BE OUTMODED—

According to Dr. Philip Morrison of Cornell University, the present atom bomb conceivably could be used to detonate a hydrogen superbomb 1,200 times as powerful as the ones dropped on Japan, but, he admitted that science does not yet have the means of producing a hydrogen bomb.

YOUNG EDITOR—

Ten-year-old Joan Jacobs, of Corsicana, Texas, is editor, publisher, and printer of her own newspaper. In it she gives out latest news from Hollywood, tips on shopping and what the well-dressed woman will wear, popularity rating of teachers at school, and bits of local gossip. She has one advertiser—a clothing store.

Selling for only five cents a copy, the paper is read avidly by Joan's schoolmates and its local subscribers. Recently it won national recognition for its little girl publisher.

Record Enrollment For Fall Indicated

Indications point to another record enrollment for the 1947-48 school year at Harding. Dean L. C. Sears said Wednesday. Reservations are pouring into the office at a rate which makes it appear very likely that this year's mammoth enrollment, which is double that of any previous year, will be dwarfed by the next one if the housing shortage can be solved.

Dean Sears reports that he has some assurance of additional apartment buildings, but even with these the housing situation is expected to remain a problem.

Four Men Are Named To Alpha Honor Society

Three senior men and one junior have been named to become members of the Alpha Honor Society, highest scholastic organization on the Harding campus, Dr. W. K. Summitt, registrar, announced Wednesday. They are J. B. Kinney, William Clark Stevens, William Brodie Crouch, and Frank Noris Ellis.

One of the highest honors attainable for students here, it is open only to upperclassmen and requires that a senior have a scholarship index of 2.5 and that a junior have a 2.7 average. Good moral character is the only other requirement.

Only ten per cent of the junior class may be chosen for membership, but 12 1-2 per cent of the senior class is eligible including those who become members as seniors. Although these quotas are rarely filled, requirements named are similar to those of the national honor fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa.

Kinney, senior student from Nashville, Tennessee, is a Bible major with a minor in history. A preacher, he serves in the capacity of dean for the high school boys' dorm. He was named as one of eleven Harding students to be listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" for 1946-47, and was an honor student throughout last year.

Stevens is the single junior student to acquire this recognition. A chemistry major, he comes from Bentonville, Arkansas. In addition to his high scholastic standing, Stevens is also well-known on the campus for his all-round athletic ability.

Crouch, Morristown senior with a major in English, has been a training school teacher this year. He has also served as a columnist and reporter on the Bison.

A Canadian student, Ellis comes from Meaford, Ontario. He completed his college work last term with a double major in English and Education.

The new members were elected at a meeting of senior members last week. Active alumni members are Dr. George S. Benson, Mrs. Florence Cathcart, Mrs. L. C. Sears, Dr. Frank Rhodes, Mrs. Neil B. Cope, Mrs. O. M. Coleman, Dr. Joseph Pryor, Miss Annie Mae Alston, and Mrs. Jess Rhodes. Student members named last year were Robert Helsten, Betty Lowe, and Mrs. Inez Pickens.

Among projects sponsored by the Society is an annual banquet at which the public is invited to hear a well-known speaker.

Sears Attends Meet Of North Central

Dean L. C. Sears attended a meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities, while in Chicago during the later part of March. Theme of the NCA conference was "Education and World Peace."

He was also present at a Chicago gathering of college representatives participating in the "workshop" movement for the improvement of instruction. Harding is one of seventy-five institutions sponsoring the plan.

There are to be three workshops held this summer under North Central backing.

The University of Minnesota will have the first of the three in June. Second is to be an August workshop at Chicago University. A special meeting for college presidents, the third will also take place in August.

Dr. W. K. Summitt is planning to attend the June workshop. Arrangements for a Harding representative to attend the August session are pending.

Notice

All papers to be mailed home by students must be in at the Bison office by Friday noon. Papers placed in the campus mail slot at the mailboxes will not be mailed. Students are requested not to take papers in the dining hall.

Scholarship Plans Discussed By Alumni

The initial meeting of the Delta Alumni Association, the newly organized organization of Harding College alumni and ex-students in the Northeast Arkansas and Southeast Missouri area, was held in March at Hayti, Mo. Thirty officers and members attended.

Plans for a scholarship to be awarded some student in the association's district of ten counties were discussed and also plans for an annual set of trophies to be presented outstanding boy and girl students at Harding in dramatics and journalism. Definite action will be taken early this month by the executive committee.

Robert F. Lawyer of Kennett, presided at the meeting; Bill Smith of Caruthersville, Mo., gave a talk on the current happenings at Harding; and Miss Venida Regan and Miss Carmelita Regan of Kennett sang several musical selections.

Seniors Invited To Board Showboat As Juniors Take Helm

Captain Carl Kitzmiller and his junior showboat crew embarked with 74 senior guests from the Pattie Cobb reception room to go to the banquet room of the Rendezvous April 4 for the annual junior-senior banquet celebration.

"Uncle Andy" Ritchie, senior sponsor, singing music from Jerome Kern's "Showboat," John Mason, and a double quartette composed of Dale Jorgenson, Bill Nations, Jack Dillard, Jess Vanhooser, Jean Chouteau, Lynn Hefton, Jo Connell, and Dixie Dillard, furnished music for the evening. "Lonesome Road," "Make Believe," and "Old Man River," were numbers presented. The men's quartette was featured in a medley of southern songs.

Dr. Jack Wood Sears, junior sponsor, worded the invocation. Guest speakers were Dean L. C. Sears, who presented the "Sealed Orders," and Dr. George S. Benson, who gave the "Admiral's Address."

The showboat "Log of 1947" was read by Joe Cannon, the "Log of 1957" by Jesse Vanhooser, and the class will by Joe Dan Tipps. A reading "The Weary Blues," by Josephine Connell made up the remainder of the entertainment for the evening.

The programs, which also served as place cards, were miniature stages in blue and yellow. Other decorations carrying out the showboat theme were anchors, a doll representing a showboat actress on a stage placed as a centerpiece before a large mirror, miniature boat outcrops with lifesaver "preservers," and flower arrangements of yellow jonquils and iris.

The total number attending was approximately one hundred thirty five.

Superior Rating Given Three At State Festival

Harding speech students garnered three ratings in the superior class, three in the excellent division, and an excellent award for their play, "Poor Old Jim," at the state speech festival held at Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway, recently.

Guthrie Dean received a superior rating for his oration, Edna Hodge, superior in oratory, and Judy Hogan superior in poetry.

Ratings of excellent were given to Forest Moyer in extemporaneous prose, Ruth Benson in poetry, and Lois Jackson in extemporaneous speaking. Charles Stovall was adjudged good in extemporaneous speaking.

"Poor Old Jim", with Judy Hogan, Joe Dan Tipps, and Ed Cade in the three roles, was directed by Dr. Jack Wood Sears. Mrs. J. N. Armstrong was in charge of the speech students.

Dr. Gladys Porchner of the University of Wisconsin department of speech was judge at the festival. Hostess for the meet was Miss Leona Scott of the ASTC speech department.

Workshop Plays Given Tonight

Two workshop plays, "The Finger of God", and "Goodnight, Please," are being presented to members of the dramatic club tonight at six o'clock in the auditorium.

Both plays are one-acts with each representing a different mood. "The Finger of God" is a drama directed by Therman Healy. His cast includes Madge McCluggage, Ernie Wilkerson and Arthur Peddle. Josephine Connell has directed "Goodnight, Please" which is a comedy. Her cast includes Lois Hemingway, Joe Cannon, Paul Clark, Madge McCluggage, Rosemary Pledger, Evert Pickartz, and Ralph Younger.

Well-Known Harpist Will Present Program April 15

Miss Elizabeth Pearson, first harpist with the Louisiana Symphony Orchestra, will present a program of music in the Harding College auditorium Tuesday evening, April 15.

Miss Pearson has achieved national recognition as a harpist, having studied at the well-known Curtis Institute of Music under Carlos Salzedo, the famous master of the harp. She has played with the Scranton Symphony, the Indiana Youth Orchestra, and has studied at the Summer Harp Colony of America at Camden, Maine.

Her program at Harding will include a varied group of compositions, from the seventeenth-century polyphonic tradition to modern numbers by her former teacher, Mr. Salzedo.

An admission fee of fifty cents, including federal tax, will be charged to cover the expense of transporting her harp. Students and faculty who wish tickets are advised to purchase them immediately from the business office, since only a limited number of seats will be available.

This program is another one of the series sponsored by the department of music in an effort to bring nationally-known artists to the Harding Campus for the benefit of music students, and others who enjoy fine music.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us or we find it not... Emerson.

Dean, Hodge Take Medals In Bison Oratorical Contest

Edna Hodge

Finals Conducted In First Chapel

Guthrie Dean, junior ministerial student from Louisiana, was named winner of the men's division of the annual Bison Oratorical Contest following final speeches delivered by contestants in chapel periods yesterday. Winner of the division for women was Edna Hodge, Oklahoma City junior.

Dean was awarded the honor over Sammie Swim, senior student from Texas, and remaining finalist. Judges were Dean L. C. Sears, Dr. Frank Rhodes, and Professor Leslie Burke. Their decision was based on content and delivery.

The decision was made following the first assembly, although all three speakers were presented in the second. Speeches were original compositions of ten minutes duration.

Preliminary orations in the men's division were made April 2. Judges serving at that time were Carl Spain, professor of Bible, Miss Annie Mae Alston, English instructor, and Neil B. Cope, professor of journalism and Bison sponsor. Miss Hodge took first place uncontested when her only opponent, Edith Chastain, was forced to withdraw because of illness.

Titles of the speeches given yesterday were "I Am An American", Dean; "Year of Decision, 1947", Swim; and "What Will the World of Tomorrow Be", Miss Hodge.

Winners will be guests of the Press Club at its annual banquet in May, at which time the Oratorical Medals will be presented.

Fox Aids Class Preparing For Work In Japan Schools

Work by the Harding students who are preparing to go to Japan for mission work received a stimulant last week with the visit of Harry Robert Fox, Sr., of the Cornell Avenue church of Christ in Chicago who was on the campus Thursday and Friday to help with the instructions in language work and other preparations necessary. Mr. Fox is a former missionary to Japan.

Six couples, four of them from Harding, Colis and Delores Campbell, Charles and Norma Doyle, Rosa Belle Cannon, Joe Cannon, Lou Dugger and Virgil Lawyer, are definitely planning to be in Japan to aid in starting at least one of the three proposed Bible schools by next fall. The two sons of Mr. Fox, Logan and Harry Robert, Jr., will also be in the group. At least that many more will go next year after completing their school work and other necessary preparations.

The group from Harding now meets each evening of the school week at 8:30 to study the Japanese language, pray concerning the work, and discuss the relevant problems facing them. Records for the language study were purchased with contributions made by the student body and faculty in chapel. The books which accompany them greatly facilitate the difficult task of learning the Japanese language and customs.

Since there is no regular teacher, the students take turns conducting the lessons, each fulfilling the task for a week at a time.

The visit by Mr. Fox was both encouraging and helpful, members of the class said.

Any man may make a mistake; none but a fool will stick to it—Cicero.

Chorus To Make Two Extended Trips

Two extended trips are on the schedule for the Harding chorus during the last term, with the possible addition of another shorter one, depending upon the amount of time and transportation available. Professor Andy T. Ritchie, director of the chorus, said Wednesday. The first scheduled tour, from April 12 to April 14, will take the chorus to Shreveport, La.; where it will visit the church of Christ and sing on two church radio broadcasts.

The other trip will include St. Louis and Chicago stops, where the group will give programs, Detroit, and Ft. Wayne, Indiana, where Clinton Elliott, Harding graduate of '46 is minister of the church of Christ. At Detroit, the chorus will attend the National Federation of Music Clubs conference. They will sing on the program of the conference Thursday, April 24, and return to the campus about April 30.

Friday of last week the group were guests of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Marion, where they provided a program of sacred and secular music to members of the chamber of commerce and their guests. Sunday afternoon they participated in the dedication of a new church building at Olyphant, where Vernon Lawyer, a Harding student, preaches, and Sunday night they gave a program in the school house at Oil Trough, Arkansas.

Members of the Detroit group are: Margie Alexander, Eddie Baggett, Ruth Benson, Ruth Bornschlegel, Jean Chouteau, Paul Clark, Jo Connell, Dixie Dillard, Kelly Doyle, James Ganus, Roger Hawley, Marianne Hazlett, Lynn Hefton, Lois Hemingway, Doris Johnson, Dale Jorgenson, Mildred Lanier, Marjorie Lee, Joe Lemmons, Madge McCluggage, Bill Nations, LaVera Novak, Bill O'Neal, Carnell Patterson, Evelyn Rhodes, Robert Riggs, Margaret Smart, Norman Starling, Mary Lee Strawn, Joe Dan Tipps, Jessie Vanhooser, Robert Webb, James Willett, Gerry Young, and Nadine Young.

Both the Shreveport and Detroit groups are members of the small chorus under the direction of Professor Ritchie.

Campus Players Initiate Three

The Campus Players initiated three students, Judy Hogan, Ed Cade and Morgan Buffington, into their number Saturday evening, April 5, at a ceremony conducted in the make-up studio. Following initiation all members went to the choral studio to be served by a committee composed of Paul Clark, Thelda Healy, and Millie Lanier.

Follow The Pattern

In the molding of our personalities, we reach out and bring back to ourselves traits and characteristics and opportunities that we use much as a child uses gaily colored blocks to build an imaginary house. Two children may be given identical sets of blocks, but they will arrange them in different patterns, and make of them quite different structures. So we take the set of blocks Life gives to us, and begin to toy with them . . . to build, and rebuild, seeking to make the structure pleasing to ourselves and those about us.

Some of us choose all blocks of glaring colors . . . others mingle cooler hues with the gayer ones to produce a more pleasing whole. Yet, all the Teacher can do is to hand us the blocks. As we choose, we cast them aside, or arrange them as we see fit.

Of times we became discouraged, and angrily tear down part of what we have built, throw away the blocks, impatiently ask for a new set. The Teacher is wise, and continues to hand us others. And sometimes when we are not watching he picks up the discarded blocks, hands them to us again, and watches as we take the ones we had refused and delightedly find a place where they will just fit. When a sterner lesson is needed, he will refuse to give a new set of blocks . . . but will quietly wait until we decide to take the ones we have and try again to fit them together.

He is the Master Craftsman. He made the blocks. He designed the pattern, and He will guide us . . . but it is by our own choosing that we follow or discard the pattern set before us. When we complete the structure that is our personality we will know its success or failure will depend, not on the blocks, but how wisely we have used them . . . the opportunities, circumstances, and bits of knowledge that have been given to us.

From A Letter

The following excerpts are taken from a letter recently addressed to Dean L. C. Sears and signed by W. M. Payne, secretary of the Sterlington, Louisiana church of Christ. "It has been the good fortune of the congregation at Sterlington to have one of your students work with us as a minister . . . for the past eight months. The man we have reference to is Guthrie Dean . . . we feel we cannot speak too highly of his work at this place, or of his sacrifice. What he has done will be of lasting value, and we feel that the training he has received at Harding College is in a measure responsible for his ability to carry on the work . . . We are sure that you have other students that are doing an equally good work

"We wish to express our appreciation to you and your faculty for the great work you are doing in training the youth of our land to carry on the work of the lord in an acceptable manner"

This letter is indeed a tribute, not only to the individual student who felt his responsibility and carried on his work in such a way that men much older than he would be so grateful they would write a letter such as the above, but also to Harding College as a whole in its fight through the years to make from a student body of boys and girls the kind of men and women the world appreciates and admires.

Things We Really Should Remember

Let's always put ourselves first. We're so important that every one of our little feelings must be gratified before we think of anyone else. Then if there's any time left over, why — poor old Joe, let's help him out.

And let's be sure to grab the best for ourselves. When it's a matter of taking the first class and leaving the scum for the people we consider scum, it's better just to do it and not recall that there's a rule in the Bible called the Golden Rule. And let's be sure to take what we want. Even if someone else was there before we were — that is, if we have the right kind of friends, we can get it. There are always ways and means, though they may be a little on the shady side. (Who will notice? Maybe more people than you think, friend, maybe more than you think.)

And then there's a little matter of authority. Especially if it is only a student who has been given authority. After all, you're a student too — why should you pay any attention to him. If the job falls through because you failed to come through, it's his neck, why spring sunshine . . . you can always tell him there was a term theme worry about a little thing like that? Let's get out and enjoy the or that library reading you just must do. He'll do something if he has to, won't he. Of course, of course, and you don't know how much trouble it may have been because you never had time to investigate.

Let's pamper ourselves while we're at it. Let's do things when we want to do them, how we want to do them, and let's pout if anyone asks us to make any changes. Let's go into our little shell and teach them a lesson. My, my, they shouldn't have meddled with our brainstorm, even if they did have the authority. That's what comes of authority. Someone is always keeping you from running the world exactly your way, regardless of who is hurt.

Ah, yes, 'tis spring, 'tis spring. Let's ignore the lower caste. Let's wander around the campus sniffing the fresh breezes with our best girl friend. Let's do what the rest of the world may feel like doing but can't because you must come first. But for garden seed, DON'T let's happen to run into a cloud with water in it . . . we might see a reflection that would scare us!

PICK-UPS

Scott

Other papers evidently had the same idea . . . and my little mail played host to some of the craziest April Fool editions. The Ouachita Signal's was good. . . especially the editorial column. It was a lovely white blank with the words "Wonderful, Isn't It?" written in inch high letters. The president's column was just about as informative.

The University of Arkansas' April Fool edition goes under the heading of "Pig Sty". Such headlines as . . . "Battle rages, Hundreds Die As Students Capture Campus" . . . characterized the yellow paper of the "Traveler."

At Louisiana College, a weekend for visiting mothers was planned, and students' mothers were urged to be campus visitors. The principal events planned for the guests were a buffet supper, an organ concert, and a play presented by the Little Theatre.

Sou' Western's April Fool edition gives us these morsels of nonsense . . .

From the Babbler . . .

One of two women riding on a bus suddenly realized that she hadn't paid her fare. "I'll go right up and pay it," she declared.

"Why bother?" her friend replied. "You've got away with it . . . so what?"

"I've found that honesty always pays" the other said, virtuously, and went up front to pay the driver.

"See, I told you honesty always pays!" she said when she returned. "I handed the driver a quarter and he gave me change for 50 cents!"

The Park Stylus defines a convention as what hotels put back their revolving door after.

From the same source we read this also.

"A certain minister went to call on a backslider who had once been a regular attendant in the congregation. He found the man sitting beside an open fire. Without saying a word, the minister took the tongs, lifted a glowing coal and laid it on the hearthstone. In silence they watched it quickly die out. Then the backslider spoke: "You needn't say another word, sir: I'll be there next Sunday."

FOUND: One Bridge. Not of the Brooklyn or Golden Gate ilk, but an essential portion of someone's dental equipment. The bridge was turned into the Daily Kansan business office by Mrs. Coen Byrn, hostess at the Memorial Union. A note from Mrs. Byrn says the bridge was "Left or lost in the Union fountain."

It is made up of two teeth, believed to be incisors from the central forepart of the lower jaw. No tobacco stains are perceptible, indicating a non-smoker or a superior dentifrice. The teeth are reposeing peacefully, although somewhat forlornly in a small box which formerly contained paper clips.

The individual who is going around wearing a smile with a hole in it can fill his gap by calling at the Kansan business office.

Song Review

By Dale Jorgenson

Robert Neil, well-known song director who was at Harding during the fall Thanksgiving lectureship, said concerning spiritual congregational singing:

"I do not concur in the opinion that the poor singing found in many places is primarily the result of such things as a mistaken attitude toward the song service, the absence of good voices, or ignorance of good music. I feel that poor singing, whether it be due to the irreverent interruptions of late comers and early leavers, poor leadership, or non-participation of the congregation, is chiefly the result of a spiritual illness of some sinister type, an illness which if not checked and cured will finally close the doors of the meeting house affected. I fear that some of the children, and most of the grandchildren, of persons who become of habit sit respectfully through a sermon, remain quiet during a prayer, and partake of the Lord's supper, while without good reason they refrain from singing praises to God — their descendants, I say, will likely dispense with such a troublesome Sunday morning exercise and spend their time in needed sleep or physical exercise and recreation."

The attitude on our part which prompts us to say, "Oh, I don't know that song; I'll just sit it out," is an identifying characteristic of the spiritual illness Neil mentioned. Are we not interested enough to profit by the edifying words of the hymn, and eventually to learn the tune by listening? Almost anyone is capable of participating in the singing of simple hymn melodies, and if we will only expend a consistent effort, we are certain to realize boundless spiritual benefits as a reward for our Christian attitude.

Off The Campus

Smith

Preaching for the church in Scott City, Kansas, we find Virgil Cullum. Here in school at the beginning of the year, Virgil was a member of the Lambda Sigma club and a student preacher.

Attending the school of dentistry at the University of Texas is an ex-Harding student, Robert Oliver.

Mrs. Nelson, the former Mary Nell Welborn, is now living in Senatobia, Mississippi. Mary Nell graduated in 1944 and was a member of the Alpha Psi Omega and Gata clubs. She has a small daughter.

In Licking, Missouri, we find Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wooten. Joe graduated from Harding in 1945 while Mrs. Wooten, the former Mary Hargrave was a student here in that year. Mary was a member of the Ju Go Ju club; Joe belonged to the Lambda Sigmas.

Miss Elizabeth King is teaching home economics in the high school in Somerset, Ohio, this year. She plans to enter Peabody College next year to continue her studies in this field. While here on the campus in 1944 she served as editor of the Petit Jean and was a member of the Ju Go Ju club.

Miss Ruby Jean Wesson, grad of '45, is still working in Memphis. Ruby Jean was a member of the Alpha Honor Society and Ju Go Ju club while here, as well as editor of the Petit Jean during her senior year.

Which brings to mind the joke of 1946: Did you know that the reason John L. was brought to trial was because he was contributing to the delinquency of miners?

ATTENTION Sunday School Teachers! We now have books 1, 2 and 3 of the Standard Bible Story Readers. $1.25 each at the College Book Store.

PRESENTING

Journalist: Junior Grade

SCENE: A typical newspaper office. Hats, pencils, and Hersey bar wrappers litter the place. Mingled odors of typewriter oil, perspiration, and printer's ink prevail. It is a sanctuary of the renowned art of journalism. It is, alas, the Bison office.

FROSH: "Lookit, my name's on the bulletin board! I'm honored."
OLD TIMER: "Indeed".
FROSH: "I am selected to join the gay group to edit the Bison this week. The kind heart of our she editor, no doubt."
OLD TIMER: "Are you prepared to meet this responsibility?"
FROSH: "Indubitably. Only last evening I read four chapters of Shurdlu's American Journalism in Action. I am prepared."
OLD TIMER: "Ah, you youthful Horace Greeleys are guardians of our newspaper destinies. (Extends hand with reverence). Excelsior!"
FROSH: "Farewell, I go to Judsonia, wherein the White County Printing Company, printer of the Bison, resides." (Gives gesture of goodbye and walks from office, flanked on each side by BROWN and ATKINSON).

SCENE: The White County Printing Company of Judsonia, where a battery of reporters, columnists, printers, and editors rush to and fro in a lather of frenzy. FROSH has assumed his duties as understudy editor. He sits behind a large oak desk and props his feet on it.

FROSH: "This is the life! Copy boy!" (Crawling individual approaches his desk) "Take this slug of society back to the linotype operator."
COPY BOY: (Cringing from senior staffer, who has just delivered a kick into his teeth) "As you say."
BROWN: (From behind a stack of proof sheets on the other side of the room) "Atkinson, take the Frosh into the back. A tour of the mechanical laboratory should prove valuable experience."
ATKINSON: "Okay, Ed. Follow me, bum, if you can extract yourself from that position."
FROSH: "Roger." (Already having picked up journalistic lingo).

SCENE: The printing department of the White County Record and the Harding College Bison. FROSH wanders back and forth among the moving machines. He is at once amazed and astounded. ATKINSON leads the way, stopping every few steps to yawn.

ATKINSON: "Well?"
FROSH: "This is truly a wonderful establishment. Tell me, Topeka, what is this mechanism?"

ATKINSON: "That, my friend, is a typewriter."
FROSH: "Cute."
FROSH: "I like your job press. It's the first one I've seen with keys."
ATKINSON: "That's the linotype."
FROSH: "You can't kid me. A linotype is the thing you cut paper with."
ATKINSON: (Exasperated) "I don't want to dispute your word but—"
FROSH: "Forget it! We all make mistakes."
BROWN: (Arriving just in time to keep ATKINSON from pushing FROSH in a cauldron of molten lead) "What goes?"
FROSH: (Avoiding the issue) "I believe I've mastered the mechanical side of this business. Shall we retire?" (Takes a step that moves him out of the way of a lunge by ATKINSON).

SCENE: The staff is gathered in a group around the editor's desk back at the Bison office at Searcy. The Bison has come out. FROSH leans in one corner of the room calculating his total number of inches published from the edition.

OLD TIMER: "How did you do, son?"
FROSH: "Excellently."
OLD TIMER: (Placing his arm around FROSH in a fatherly gesture) "I knew you'd do it."
FROSH: (half-unconcernedly) "Me too."
ATKINSON: (As FROSH leaves room, still reading Bison) "Who accepts resignations around this joint?"

CHAPELETTES

By Eddie Baggett

MARCH 25—

Dr. Benson officially welcomed spring to the Harding campus, and acquainted new students with the school policies regulating spring outings to Petit Jean and other off-campus points of interest.

MARCH 26—

Dr. Benson spoke on the evils of communism, and its threat to infiltrate our national government, our school system, and to destroy our democratic way of life.

MARCH 27—

Led by Andy T. Ritchie, the chapel assemblies devoted the periods to exhortation, admonition and praise through song.

MARCH 28—

Professor Carl Spain lectured on the threat of free-masonry to destroy the New Testament form of Christianity. Citing publicly the oaths required for entrance to this powerful organization, Spain emphasized that its ceremonies are based upon paganistic ritual rather than upon the Bible, and that those who accept the principles of free-masonry are, in effect, denying that the Bible is the revealed will of God to man.

MARCH 29—

Two movies, sponsored by the biology department, reveal the value of vaccination in preventing disease, and the place of proper foods in human health.

APRIL 1—
S. A. Bell cited a number of the fundamental Christian virtues, and spoke at length on faith, the foundation of them all. Regardless of all else, he said, it is our faith which enables us to accomplish our purpose in Christ, and it is our faith which leads us to purpose.

APRIL 2—

Dr. Bales followed up yesterday's study of faith with a consideration of justification by faith alone. Emphasizing that those who profess to believe in such unconditional justification do not practice it, he presented scriptures to show that faith plus obedience to God's word is essential to salvation.

APRIL 3—

Another program of familiar hymns featured selections by members of the student body.

APRIL 4—

Harry Fox, former missionary to Japan who expects to return to that country soon, appealed to Harding students to give consideration to the fertile fields presented by that country. Never before has such an open door been presented to the church, Fox declared, where people are clamoring to be told what Christianity is. Quoting General McArthur, Fox pointed out that the only solution to the grave problem of reconstruction in Japan is in Christianity.

APRIL 5—

Dr. Benson followed yesterday's stirring message with another missionary appeal. Revealing that he had asked E. W. McMillan of Memphis to survey the conditions in Japan, make a report to this country, and then return to Japan to supervise that work, he appealed to all Harding students to pray for the success of the effort.

Winning Play Is Given For Students

The student body was entertained with one of the best presentations of the year when the dramatic club offered "Poor Old Jim", a one-act comedy, in the auditorium Thursday evening, April 3. The play was the one which represented the college in the one act play division of the State Speech Festival in Conway, March 28. A rating of excellent was received in the meet.

Dr. Jack Wood Sears directed the play whose cast included Judy Hogan, Ed Cade and Joe Dan Tipps.

Evening Concert Features Pianist

The Harding College department of music presented Mary Elliott Gardner, pianist, in a concert Saturday, April 5, at 8:00 p. m. in the college auditorium.

Divided into three sections, the evening program lasted approximately seventy minutes.

Numbers from the first group were: "Prelude and Fugue in E major", Bach; "Rondo-Gavotte", Bach; and "Andante with Variations", Haydn.

Three Chopin pieces, "Valse in G Flat", "Nocturne in B Flat minor", and "Ballade in G minor", were presented by Mrs. Gardner during the second section of the program.

During the final session of the concert Mrs. Gardner played "Consolation, No. 5", Liszt; "The Nightingale", Alabieff-Liszt; "Nocturne", Ottorino Respighi; "Tom Thumb's March", Octavio Pinto; "Rondalla Aragonesa", Enrique Granados; and Etude in the Form of a Waltz, Saint-Saens.

Called back to the stage for an encore, she closed the concert program with "Bagatell" by Beethoven.

Mrs. Gardner, the mother of two young daughters, age 3 and 5, is a teacher of music in the Drury College at Springfield, Missouri. She was an instructor of music at Harding during 1939 through 1941 when she was Miss Mary Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner left Harding Sunday afternoon for Springfield where Mrs. Gardner was to repeat her concert at Drury College Monday evening, April 7.

Faculty Members Attend Lectureship

Dean L. C. Sears, Dr. J. D. Bales and Professor Andy T. Ritchie represented Harding College at a church lectureship in Fayetteville last week.

The lectureship, sponsored by Joe Spaulding, a former Harding student, used as its theme "The Educational Program of the Church."

Dr. Bales spoke on Sunday morning, Professor Ritchie Sunday evening and Dean Sears Monday night.

In addition to the lectureship at Fayetteville, Dean Sears also visited Springfield, where he spoke at the morning and evening services on Sunday and Siloam Springs, where he spoke Sunday afternoon.

At noon Tuesday, Sears spoke to the Kiwanis club of Fayetteville on the subject "Democratic Education", especially "The responsibility of colleges and universities in meeting some of the present-day problems of democracy."

A number of University of Arkansas students and teachers attended both the church lectureship and Kiwanis club address. Among states represented were Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

PENDIPS

Greetings and salutations and all that sort of things to you and you and you. Spring! Ah! It's no longer a-round the corner. It's here! All the trees have tiny green leaves popping out on their branches every hour. The ground is rapidly being covered with the proverbial green carpet. Robins are chirting up all over the campus with an occasional red cardinal joining in. It's exhilarating! I propose we declare a week's holiday to go outside and enjoy SPRING! Well, a day any-way.

To me spring is the very best of the four seasons. The best. Now there's a good word. Remember that saying about making the good better and the better best? Maybe we ought to skip the middle step and simply aim at the best. There's a poem called "Be the Best of Whatever You Are" that I'd like to quote the first and last verses from.

If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill,

Be a scrub in the valley — but be
The best little scrub by the side of the rill;
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.

If you can't be a highway, then just be a trail;

If you can't be the sun, be a star;
It isn't by size that you win or you fail—

Be the best of whatever you are!

Madalon Herren, of the East Wing Heights of Godden Hall, has exposed her famed brilliance for eveready re-torts again. This time it happened in the choral studio just before History and Appreciation of Music began. Millie Lanier asked, "Well, what is a nocturne anyway?" Madalon: "Oh, it's part of a roadsign, you know, 'Do Nocturne Here'."

At the luncheon in Little Rock last Friday where a part of the small chorus were guests (well, O. K., maybe not exactly guests since they had to sing for their dinner) the afterdinner speaker gave an illustration I think worthy of passing on to you.

There was once a little boy who had only one good eye. This handicap had restricted his association with other children a great deal. One day when returning home from an errand for his mother, he heard singing in the Sunday School rooms of a church. He walked over and pressed his little nose against the glass to see in. The director inside knew nothing else to do but ask him in. He was embarrassed but came in and sat down on the back row. The director stood up in front of the group and held up one finger and the little boy immediately held up two. She held up three fingers and he held up his fist. Then she picked up an apple from the desk and held that up. The little boy quickly held up the pie he'd bought for his mother. Then the director came back and handed the little boy a ten dollar bill and he went home.

The director had given him the ten dollars as a prize for answering all the questions correctly. She was questioned for her wisdom in giving the prize to a child who had never attended Sunday School. She replied, "He answered all the questions correctly. I was asking for the symbols of Christianity. I held up one finger to denote the Father and he held up two to show that there is a Father and a Son. I held up three fingers to symbolize the Godhead, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. He held up his fist to show the power of the Three. I held up the apple to symbolize the sin of man in the Garden of Eden and he held up his pie to show he would give all he had."

When the little boy reached home and his daddy asked him where he had found the ten dollars he gave this reply, "The lady held up one finger to show I had only one eye and I held up two fingers to tell her my one is as good as her two. Then she held up three fingers to show we had only three eyes between us and I held up my fist to tell her I was ready to fight. Then she held up an apple to throw at me so I held up my pie to throw back at her. Then she came down the aisle and gave me ten dollars not to hit her and I came home."

Training School News

Due to the recent flu epidemic quite a few students have been absent from all grades. Miss Knight has also been a flu victim, and was replaced during her absence by Mrs. L. C. Sears and Mrs. Greg Rhodes.

Spring term practice teachers include Pearl Mehan, Leah Jane Prince, and Mrs. E. W. Massey. Madge McCluggage is also teaching one class in music in the third and fourth grades.

A variation in the elementary grades chapel exercises is being tried during the spring term. Recent programs have presented kodachrome slides, accordion music by Joe Cannon, a discussion of Holland and Switzerland by Forrest Moyer, and a talk on England by Charles Doyle.

Fifth and sixth grade students recently visited the home of Judge Cy-pert in Searcy to see his collection of antiques. Among those examined was a piano upon which Stephen Foster is said to have played.

Third and fourth grade studies have included units on community life and the country of China. In connection with the latter, Fung Seen Wong has been invited to speak to the group.

Wood carving continues to occupy the interest of a number of upper grade students. Fifth and sixth graders are also working with the group this term.

Ju Go Ju's Spend Day At Red Bluff

Leaving the campus in the school bus at 7:30 Monday morning, April 7, sixteen Ju Go Ju's and their dates rode to Red Bluff to spend the day playing games, eating and hiking.

At noon the group spread a lunch consisting of grilled steak, potato salad, baked beans, tomatoes, lettuce, rolls, lemonade, strawberries and ice cream.

Dean and Mrs. L. C. Sears sponsored the outing.

Ray Wills and Maryann Hazelet were guests of the Ju Go Ju's.

Engagements

Froud-Dillinger

The engagement of Miss Carletta Froud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Froud of Step Rock, Arkansas, to William Thomas Dillinger, son of Mrs. M. W. Watercon of Hope, Arkansas, was announced Monday night, March 31.

Carletta is a junior with a major in business administration. She is a member of the Tofebt social club.

Tom is a sophomore student majoring in Bible and journalism and is a member of the Delta Iota's. He served in the Army Air Force three years, spending part of this time in service in the south and southwest Pacific area. He is at present manager of the College Inn.

Dean-Brady

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Dean of Chicago, Illinois, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Marie Dean, to Lee Kenneth Brady, son of Mrs. M. F. Brady of Rockingham, N. C.

Helen is a member of the sophomore class and the Omega Phi social club. Kenneth, who served three years in the Navy, is a freshman student and a member of Alpha Phi Kappa.

The wedding will take place in Chicago in late summer.

Camp Tahkodah Is Scene Of H Club Spring Outing

Members of the H-Club and their guests left early Monday, April 7, for Camp Tahkodah, to spend a day playing softball, boat riding, hiking, and cooking dinner.

Fried chicken and French-fried potatoes were cooked over a campfire, while slaw, cookies and ice cream, and cakes had been brought along to complete the menu.

Members of the club and dates participating were Beth Jones, Doug Lawyer; Juanita Waller, Sammie Swim; Laverne Sevedge, Refes O'Brien; Jean Gunter, Keith Thompson; Darlene Kimbrough, Alvin Moudy; Margaret Scott, Gladys Blevins; Margaret Chaffin, Bill O'Neal; Dorothy Baker, Dorothy Munger, Lewis Yingling; Fayrene Imboden, Gene Catterton; Lois Seabough, Glen Buchanan; Rosalyn Mitchen, Dorothy Case.

Sponsors serving on the outing were Mrs. Lillie Huddleston, club sponsor, and Hugh Rhodes, appointed sponsor.

Faculty Wives Give Supper

Faculty wives and lady staff members entertained the men of the faculty at 7 o'clock Thursday night, April 3 with a buffet supper in the dining hall.

Places were set for four at individual tables. Each was centered with a bouquet of yellow jonquils.

The menu consisted of chicken pie, vegetables and fruit salads, English peas, lima beans, asparagus, hot rolls, tea, coffee, ice cream and cake.

After supper games of rook, checkers and dominos were enjoyed.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brown were guests.

Student Wives Club Entertains Husbands

The Student Wives Club entertained their husbands with a supper in the gymnasium, Tuesday night, April 1.

A long table with yellow and green streamers and centered with yellow jonquils and ivy carried out a spring color scheme. Small paper flowers sprinkled walls and table runners. The menu, consisted of meat loaf, baked beans, slaw, jello fruit salad, ice cream and iced tea.

After supper, games of fruit basket, bird, beast, fish, barnyard and other group games were enjoyed by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Dykes were guests.

Four Teams Remain As Softball Leagues Reach Playoff Games

Sox Play Yanks, Bums Meet Cubs

Games last week eliminated half of the four teams in each league, with the Cubs and Dodgers in the National and the Red Sox and Yankees in the American being the only teams left to battle for the championships.

The latter two were scheduled to play for their flag this afternoon at 4:25. Each team won once in the two meetings between them in regular season play. Both were expected to field the same lineups that saw the Soxers blast out a 8 to 2 victory last week. Clark Stevens for the Yanks and Malcolm Kelley of the Sox were ready to resume their rivalry on the mound.

Coy Campbell and his Cubs meet the Dodgers Saturday if the weather permits. The Cubs, with George Reagan doing the chunking, hold a 8 to 4 triumph from their previous meeting. With three straight wins behind them, the Cubs are the only team in either league without a defeat. A win for the Cubs Saturday will give them the title uncontested and the right to meet the winner of the Red Sox-Yankee struggle for the college championship, while a victory for the Dodgers will make a third game necessary. Captain Jack Lawyer will do the pitching for his team.

In announcing the playoff schedule Coach Pinky Berryhill also outlined plans for the coming class tournament, but no starting date could be set due to the intramural games. The Frosh will be allowed to operate two teams in order to accommodate more of the boys who will wish to play. A playoff will be run between these two squads for the right to represent them in competition with other classes. The winning team will be supplemented by players from the losing squad in order to have the strongest possible representative.

Four Teams Out In Softball Play

A double to right-center by Ernie Wilkerson in the last half of the seventh inning sent George Reagan across the plate to break a tie and give the Cubs a 6 to 5 win over the Braves last Friday. The victory gave the Cubs their third in a row and left them only the Dodgers to face for a clear title in the National League. These two teams were scheduled to play this afternoon.

Results in other games played recently show, American League, Indians 3, Tigers 2, Red Sox 8, Yanks 2, Red Sox 12, Indians 8; while in the National, Cubs 8, Dodgers 4; Cubs 22, Cards 12; Dodgers 14, Braves 11.

Sports Chatter

By Jimmy Atkinson

Coach Pinky Berryhill announced last week that the Annual Track and Field Day, originally set for yesterday, has been postponed indefinitely. The postponement was due to the construction work now being done on the track and athletic field.

The All-Star selections in softball will be made public in next week's Bison if the tournament is completed in time to have the results of the captains' choices tabulated. A team will be selected in each league.

With Hugh Rhodes and his track and field class serving as officials, a very successful White County Track and Field Meet was held at West Point last Friday. With Hugh were Jimmie Miller, George Thompson, Lloyd Wright, Art Edwards, Grady Hicks, Arvin Edwards, Gerald Gilbreath, Ernie Wilkerson, Lester Perrin, Gordon Cook and Yours Truly. The experience was of great value to the student officials, most of them phys ed majors.

SPORTS SHORTS—
THE CUBS lead the National League in the matter of home runs while THE RED SOX are tops in round trippers in the American. They have 6 and 5, respectively . . . ERNIE WILKERSON of the Cubs is the only player to collect more than one four-master. He has two . . . THE INDIANS are the only team that has failed to get a single homer . . . PERSONAL to KIMBROUGH (yeah, Secret Weapon) here's your ORCHID . . . I BELIEVE in giving credit where it is due, so this is by way of announcing that the two sports articles in last week's Bison about the hockey game and "brass knucks" bout were written by REFES HUNDLY O'BRIEN, better known about the campus as "THE BRUISER".
